

QUICK FACTS

Siegfried (and sometimes Siegfried's partner Sieglinde) struts proudly through the audience with the goodnatured, blue-eyed dragon, Paul. The pair presents their feats to nostalgic circus music. Siegfried lets Paul play soccer with the men and dance with the women and, at the end, the kids can climb a ladder and crawl under the dragon's chin!

A hit for children both big and small – the oldest existing ZEBRA production: still young for a dragon!

Combination of walk act and stationary street theater
